Apprenticeship Funding Summit speakers

Paul Eeles has been the Chief Executive of EMFEC since 1 January 2011. Paul also takes on the additional responsibility of AoC East Midlands Regional Director ensuring that the voice of the East Midlands Colleges is heard at regional and national level through the service that EMFEC provides to the Association of Colleges (AoC). Previously Paul was Director of Sector Reforms at Association of Learning Providers (ALP) where he had been part of the senior management team since February 2005. At ALP Paul led nationally on policy reform related to Apprenticeship's, Machinery of Government Changes, Sector Skills Councils, Quality Improvement, Inspection, Qualification Reform and Workforce Reform. Paul worked closely with officials from Department for Education and Department for Business, Innovation & Skills and stakeholder organisations to represent the interests of ALP members.

Nick Linford is Managing Director of Lsect, a new company specialising in post-16 funding, performance and data within the learning and skills sector. Prior to setting up Lsect Nick spent six years as Director of Planning and Performance for Lewisham College. Nick plays a leading role in capacity building on the use of funding and management information in the learning and skills sector, is the author of The hands-on guide to post-16 funding (www.fundingguide.co.uk) and The hands-on guide to post-16 performance and data (www.dataguide.co.uk).

Jon Thorn is Employer Services Director for the National Apprenticeship Service in London. He is responsible for leading the promotion and engagement with employers to take on apprentices within London. Jon joined the National Apprenticeship Service from its inception in April 2009, prior to this he has held a number of roles within the Learning & Skills Council, working with both Apprenticeships, Train to Gain and developing the Mayor's Skills and Employment strategy. Prior to joining the LSC Jon started his career at South London Training and Enterprise Council where he was responsible for supporting the quality improvement of work based learning programmes.

Paul Warner is the Director of Delivery for the Association of Learning Providers (ALP). Paul started in the post-16 sector in 1993 as a Recruitment Consultant on Training for Work contracts. He subsequently worked in a variety of related operational and senior management roles, culminating in a highly successful three years as Director of Business Development for a national independent provider. On leaving this post he worked as a consultant for a time, including a spell managing WBL delivery at a major East London FE College, before joining ALP in September 2003. Paul is currently responsible for ALP's regional operations and acts as first point of contact for most external queries regarding operational and delivery matters across all three major funding bodies. He specialises in lobbying and research activities on Apprenitceships, Welfare to Work and Ufi/learndirect.
